RENOWNED INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL THEORIST TO LECTURE AT UM MISSOULA--

An expert on the dynamics of change in world politics and the overlap of domestic and foreign affairs will be the fourth speaker in The President's Lecture Series 1999-2000 at The University of Montana.

James N. Rosenau, University Professor of International Affairs at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, in the University Theatre. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Titled "The Challenges and Tensions of a Globalized World," Rosenau's lecture will draw on his advanced scholarship in international politics. He is a fellow of the World Academy of Art and Science, a five-time co-principal investigator of the National Science Foundation's Foreign Policy Leadership Project, and, since 1994, editor of the Series on Global Politics from State University of New York Press.

He earned a doctorate at Princeton University in 1957 and completed postdoctoral study at Columbia and New York universities in 1958-59 through a Ford Foundation International Relations Training Fellowship.
